

South Carolina Council on the Holocaust

Digital Resources for Teaching the Holocaust

SC Holocaust Council

-Our website offers updates on our professional development programming as well as being a repository for video testimonies of 37 Holocaust survivors who settled in SC and 10 US military personnel during World War II who witnessed the atrocities of the Holocaust first-hand.

Centropa

-This is a Jewish historical institute dedicated to preserving 20th century Jewish family's stories and photos from Central and Eastern Europe. It has a wealth of stories, photos, and films made for educators and students.

Echoes & Reflections

-This organization provides in-person and virtual webinars and training to educators showcasing an array of print and digital content for the classroom. A good source of lesson plans and content on many aspects of the Holocaust.

Facing History and Ourselves

-Facing History helps students connect choices made in the past to those they will confront in their own lives. Their resources address racism, antisemitism, and prejudice at pivotal moments in history, including the Holocaust, Jim Crow era, and present-day issues.

IWitness

-The University of Southern California Shoah Foundation website contains more than 1,500 full length histories, testimonies of survivors and witnesses to the Holocaust and other genocides for guided exploration. It is free to register for teachers and they create classes/student groups and share pre-made activities/lessons and multimedia with their classes easily.

United States Holocaust Memorial Museum

-This link is to the teacher section of the online presence of the USHMM. This site contains access to their online lesson plans, virtual field trips, encyclopedia of Holocaust content and artifacts, and multimedia. Additional USHMM resources link: <https://tinyurl.com/USHMMcontext>

South Carolina Council on the Holocaust

Yad Vashem: The World Holocaust Remembrance Center

-Locate in Israel, Yad Vashem along with the USHMM, are considered to be the two foremost museums about the Holocaust. Like the USHMM's site, this website contains many resources for teachers and students alike to learn about the Holocaust.

There many other websites and organizations that host a wide variety of materials related to Holocaust education. We chose to include these organizations because of the consistent success, positive feedback from educators, and quality resources that they use.
